THE MOTHER.

A softening thought of other years,
A feeling linked with ours
When life was all too bright with tears,
And hope sang wretched with flowers;
A memory of affections fled,
Of voices heard no more,
Stirred in my spirit when I read
That name of fondness—mother.

Oh MOTHER!—in that magic word
What love and joy combine?
What hopes too oft, alas! deferred—
What watchings—griefs—are thine?
Yet never till the hour we roam,
By worldly thrall oppressed,
Learn we to prize that holiest home,
A tender mother's breast.

Ten thousand prayers at midnight poured
Beside our couch of woes;
The waiting weariness endured
To soften our repose;
While never murmur marked thy tongue,
Nor tears relax thy care!
How, mother, is thy heart so strong
To pity and to bear?

What filial fondness o'er repaid,
Or could repay the past!
Alas for gratitude decayed!
Regrets that rarely last!
Tis only when the dust is thrown
Thy blessed bosom o'er,
We muse on all thy kindness shown,
And wish we loved the more.

Tis only when the lips are cold,
We mourn—with late regret,
Mid myriad memories of Old—
The days forever set;
And not an act, or look, or thought,
Against thy meek control,
But with sad remembrance fraught,
Wakes anguish in our soul.

On every hand, in every clime,
True to her sacred cause,
Filled by that influence sublime
From which her strength she draws,
Still is the mother's heart the same;
The mother's lot is tried;
And oh! many nations guard that name
With filial power and pride.

ARIZONA ITEMS.

A late Enterprise contains the following: An exploring party from Camp Verde, recently visited the lower Verde and found several neatly constructed rooms, hewn out of the sandstone bluffs of that region. Some of them were well plastered and in each of the large rooms was a cistern for water and a commodious granary. In several of the rooms niches or holes had been cut in the walls and covered over and rendered air tight by a hard cement. Upon being broken open, ears of corn, pumpkin and the seeds of grain unknown to any of the party, were discovered in the cells. Those had been there so long that on being touched they crumbled to dust.

The Miner thinks that Prescott should not monopolize Yavapai's representation in the next Legislature, and suggests the forming of the following districts:
Alexandra, Bradshaw and Walnut Grove as one. Peoples, Kirkland, Skull and Thompson valleys including Date creek, as another. Williamson valley, Camp Huapala, Chino valley another district, and the Tiptop and Agua Fria still another district, and then let each send their favorite to represent them in the Legislature.

The Cupel and Tiger Silver Mining Company has brought suit in the Twenty-third District Court, California, against Cory & Potts, Spruance Stanley & Co., to recover from the latter firm possession of certain mining claims about 200 yards north of the McCrackin, together with hoisting works, machinery, etc., also, for an accounting in connection with a judgment for about $1,500, obtained by the defendants, Cory & Potts, and rents and profits received by them.

The mail carrier between Prescott and Wickenburg, on a recent trip, left the latter place about the middle of the day when the thermometer stood at 120 in the shade. His route lay for some distance through a sandy wash, which was so hot that by the time he got through the flesh around the upper part of the hoof of his animal, was thoroughly roasted and ready to drop off. He abandoned the animal and carried the mail on his back twenty miles.

The Yuma Sentinel says Castle Dome news continue very good. The mines improve at depth in spite of prediction of the experts who declared it had nothing below 150 feet. The Arkansas' lowest level is now at 275 feet, and the mine is turning out the best ore ever produced by Castle Dome. The shaft was sunk to follow down a sheet of galena, that widened from 8 or 10 inches thick to 30 inches and carries 48 ounces of silver per ton.

Many people, says the Pescott Miner, who have invested heavily in Tiptop stock, think that the recent assessment means freeze, and they are determined that the significance of the word shall not be realized just yet, especially when every thing is hot, and the thermometer range along in the hundred notch.

Yuma Sentinel of July 27th says: By to-day's boat there goes a job press and outfit of type for J. G. Campbell, of Prescott. Campbell would seem to offer money to a newspaper for supporting his pretensions to the office of Delegate to Congress. But if the "Enterprise" sticks closely to J. G. C., that job office ought to be Marion's by the time election is over. It must cost nearly $3,000 by the time it reaches Prescott.

Immediately upon the receipt of the intelligence of the threatened outbreak of the San Carlos Indians, says the Prescott Enterprise, General Wilcox directed the issue, by the subsistence department, of 14,000 pounds of flour to Agent Hart, which was transferred to him by telegraph. The General did this on his own responsibility, and was undoubtedly the means of averting trouble at the reserve.

The McCrackin mill is still at work, turning out bullion, but the Signal is shut down. Tom Ewing, Superintendent of the Signal, had returned from San Francisco and paid off all the men at the mill and mine. What further steps were to be taken by the Company they do not know, but the talk was that they would pay up and go on with the work.

Yuma Sentinel says the first shipment of concentrations from the new "76" quartz mill is one of 10,000 pounds, by Barnett's train, which left Picket Post on the 20th. The same train also brings 20,000 pounds of concentration from the Silver King, of which the Superintendent says they are a splendid lot and very rich.

A late Miner contains the following: Hon. Joun G. Campbell has gone down to prospect Salt River and make himself acquainted with its adaptability to navigation. In November he will take passage up the same and pay a big price for the privilege. It is curious how some men have a hankering after salt water.
